Where the trail might lead in the United States is only a matter of conjecture. All officials were steadfastly silent on that feature, but it is generally believed by those in close touch with Mexican affairs that the coup was to have the financial support of some prominent American interests.

Officials of the State Department declined to say whether the detention of Huerta, arresting, in effect, any contemplated counter revolutionary movement, was a part of the Washington government's plans for compelling a solution by the Carranza, Villa and Zapata factions now in the field. Both the Villa and Carranza agents here interpreted Huerta's detention, however, as meaning that the American government was unwilling that he should complicate the situation by a re-entry into Mexico.

Await President's Return.

Until President Wilson returns from his trip to Cornish, N. H., it is unlikely that there will be any new steps in the government's policy toward Mexico. In fact, while there is still a delicate situation with Germany, it is said in well informed quarters that positive action and Former Mexican President.

Envoy at Berlin Bases Observations on Good Effect of Dr. Gerhard's Report on Visit Here.

An informal message was received at the State Department today from Am-bassador Gerard at Berlin, stating that the reply of the German government to the American note would be of a faorable character. The Gerard message was not made public. It was of a confidential charicter, but it conveyed word that the attitude of the Berlin foreign office was favorable to the American contentions There was nothing in the message to indicate when the German reply will be ransmitted by the foreign office.

The advices were notably the first of definite nature received since the American note reached the German foreign office. The exact nature of the mbassador's message was not divulged for obvious reasons, and it did not become known whether he revealed any indication of the trend of the forth-coming German reply. The ambassa-dor's dispatch was of sufficient detail, however, to put officials in an opti-mistic attitude. It was communicated at once to President Wilson, at the sum-mer White House, at Cornish, N. Advices to Mexicans here have continually indicated that the junta was planning some definite move.

Details of the arrest of Gen Victoriana Huerta and Gen. Pascual Orozco were reinderstood that the specific charge against Gen. Huerta involved the organizing of a headed for a small town about eighty miles from El Paso. Vilia sympathizers here said that arms and ammunition for movement in which Huerta is supposedly implicated have been stored or American soil. Whether or not the tele violation of the neutrality laws is all that seems certain.

The suggestion that the Department of Labor might find opportunity to de-port Gen. Huerta to Spain, whence he came before landing on the shores of Mexican Embassy Gratified.

Villa sympathizers in this city seemed would take the heart out of a large number of would-be agitators who had may take five or six years." it in mind to follow Huerta or to imi-"What effect do you think President tate his example. It was pointed out that Huerta had $15,000 for his bond and $7,500 for that of Gen. Orozco, but that probably that much money could not be raised by a dozen others who might be arrested later if they persided in violating the neutrality laws."

"What effect do you think President will alw president willow on the warring factions in Mexico?" was the next probably it will be decided to plead mental irresponsibility. It could not have been any matter of money, for he ette, blew rings of smoke a brief time and gestured that he did not care to self at any time if he needed funds and we would gladly have helped him."
